

ericglangville.com

Unemployed? Frustrated? Uncertain?

Eight Steps to a Highly Effective Independent Work Search Process

You've worked hard to get where you are. But simply having education or experience does not guarantee professional success in your chosen field. Your ability to tap into the "hidden job market" can significantly accelerate your career in the years ahead. This seminar will show you how to:

- Identify and contact key decision-makers in your chosen field.
- Conduct highly effective information interviews.
- Establish a powerful network of associates and mentors.
- Turn contacts into contracts.

About the Speaker

Eric's reputation as a leading transition expert and workshop facilitator comes from having spoken to over twenty thousand people in the last twelve years. His informative and entertaining seminars are designed to maximize the opportunities available through some of life's most significant transitions, and he is a regular guest speaker at some of the country's top universities and private associations.

Registration

Date:
Time:
Location:

Fee:
Register:

Testimonies from Seminar Participants

"This session was great. I'll definitely use the 'Eight Steps'."

"Fabulous speaker. Very informative and well spoken."

"Great information. Really got me thinking about my situation."

"Eric is very engaging, and the use of stories from his own job history is very helpful in making particular points clear."

"Amazing! More workshops with Eric please! Best this year so far."